

27th May 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

We celebrated the Feast of The Ascension in our church on Thursday morning. This was, as you know, livestreamed and I hope that you were able to join us. Thank you to Deacon Rowley, Mrs. Underdown, Mrs. Ennifer and the children for this service.

We hope that you have an opportunity to have some family time over the half-term and the upcoming bank holidays. Children return to school on Monday 6th June. We wish you a restful and peaceful week.

First Holy Communion

More of our children celebrated the Sacrament of their first Holy Communion last weekend.

Thank you to all staff who were able to attend and support our children at this most important stage of their faith journey.

The Summer Diary

Looking ahead to the next half-term, it's a very busy one. Starting with our Platinum Jubilee picnic and followed by: parent information sessions, sports days, many educational visits, parent consultation day, exhibition and awards evening, just to name a few. The best way to help you organise your diary around these is to download our school app. This will show you our calendar of school events and is updated as new events and opportunities for the children arise. Instructions on how to download this can be accessed through this link: <https://www.holycross-pri.essex.sch.uk/page/?title=School+App&pid=136>

Platinum Jubilee Picnic

You will have received an email from Mrs. Slater this week with details about this celebratory picnic which is taking place on Wednesday 8th June. As you will have seen from the notice at our school entrance, we are still seeking support from parents to spend just 20 minutes on the day helping at your child's class stall. All money raised will be going to The Holy Cross P.T.A to benefit children directly. Please either contact your child's class teacher or inform the office if you are willing to help.

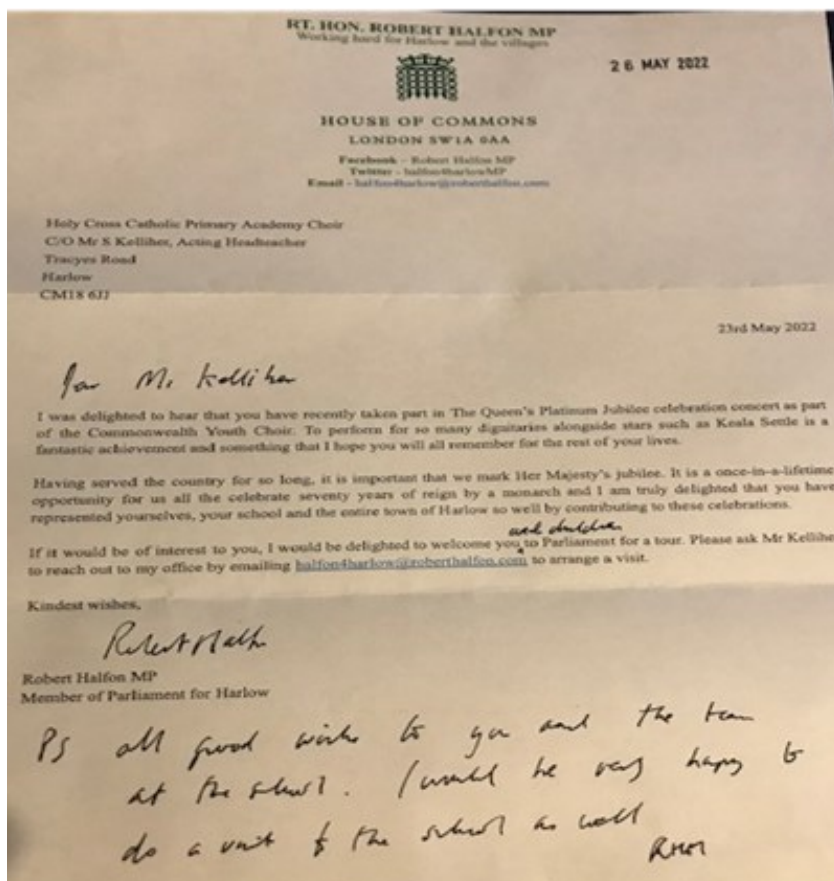

The key points from the email are:

Children will be brought to the playground at 12 noon and will all be collected from the playground at 3pm for registration before returning to the playground to be collected. For those parents unable to attend, your child will be cared for by school staff for the afternoon.

Prepayment tokens for the many stalls are available from the school office until the morning of the fete. Most of the stall activities will be 50p with the exception of the inflatables, which will be £1, the tombola stalls which will be £1, the face paints and glitter tattoos which will be £1.50 and the refreshments, which vary in price. Your child will be given these tokens on the day of the fete.

If you wish your child to avail of a school packed lunch, this needs to be booked in advance using this link <https://forms.office.com/r/94AMrA9R2P>

Packed Lunches will be charged at the normal school rate of £2.25.

The Commonwealth Youth Choir

We were delighted to receive a letter from the Rt. Hon. Robert Halfon this week congratulating our children on their performance at the Queen's Platinum Jubilee celebration on 15th May. In the letter he says that this was a fantastic achievement and that the children represented themselves, our school and the entire town of Harlow so well. We agree, wholeheartedly.

Visit by Diocesan Adviser

On Monday we welcomed Mrs. Harwood, our Diocesan link-adviser, to school. She was very complimentary about the work done and progress achieved in a number of areas of school life over this last academic year.

Parent Coffee Afternoon

Thank you to Mrs. Gallagher who hosted our parent coffee afternoon on Thursday. We look forward to seeing parents and carers at such events in the future.

Tri Golf Tournament

Congratulations to our year 6 children, who did not let the rain stop them playing some super golf last week at Church Langley school.

They completed a range of different tri-golf challenges and had to putt and chip the ball into a target area.

In golf, the aim is to achieve a lower score and our winner on the day was Lucy Philpot, with 50 points. I'm sure she will share the story of hitting the ball so hard in one challenge that the club flew up into the air! Well done to Cian, Naavah and Keira who were all fantastic too. We finished with a combined score of 231. The picture you can see is the bullseye challenge.

ATTENDANCE MATTERS

For the second consecutive week the winners of the KS1 Attendance Award are Butterflies 96% attendance. Well done! The winners of the KS2 Attendance Award are 3N attaining 99% attendance. Well done!

Please ensure you are sending your child into school everyday, unless they are not well enough to attend. Attending school is so important and makes a huge difference to your child's learning. The gates open at 8:30am until 8:50am.

Familiarise yourself with the symptoms of COVID 19. If your child displays any COVID 19 symptoms they must have a negative test before they may attend school. There is no need to keep your child off with a common cold, if they are well enough to come in.

It is essential you notify us of your child's absence by 9am either by telephone or using the Pupil Asset report absence option on every day of absence. We need full details of why your child is unable to attend school. We are frequently having to contact parents, to find out why their child is absent from school.

Parents of children below attendance targets will be invited in for a meeting with the Educational Welfare Officer.

Creepy characters like Slender Man or Huggy Wuggy. Dangerous online challenges. Songs or videos that aren't suitable for youngsters. When things like these begin trending online, it can be difficult to prevent children accidentally stumbling across them – especially if they use a range of platforms, like online games, social media, streaming sites or messaging apps. A trend can originate in one online space and rapidly spread to other platforms or via chat apps. The frightening Huggy Wuggy character, for instance, first emerged as part of a game on Steam; now there are parody songs on TikTok, videos on YouTube and more than 45,000 results for #huggywuggy on Instagram.

Anyone can upload footage to a video-sharing platform, which has resulted in clips that appear age-appropriate but contain a more sinister intent. The audience for Peppa Pig, for instance, is very young – but there have been reports of Peppa cartoons with extreme violence spliced into them. Likewise, footage of the razor-toothed game character Huggy Wuggy has been inserted into numerous child-friendly videos (even on YouTube kids), scaring many young viewers.

On a similar theme, there is always the possibility that user-uploaded video content could include language which really isn't suitable for children. As on-screen imagery may look child friendly, but if your child is wearing headphones, then you'll remain unaware of what is being said: some videos have featured songs containing explicit language or characters graphically describing violence.

Social media and messaging apps can inadvertently spread extremely harmful content very quickly. Footage of violent attacks (such as the recent Buffalo supermarket shootings) can often be viewed on multiple platforms as people start to share the video. Moderators try to react swiftly to remove upsetting content, but the rate at which it goes viral makes it difficult to prevent the spread completely.

Even if your child doesn't have access to social media platforms or video-streaming platforms (where the majority of issues arise), they might still use messaging apps to communicate with family and friends. There is always going to be a risk, therefore, of them seeing something which isn't child friendly: either shared by one of their peers or sent accidentally by a relative.

Enable safety settings like Google SafeSearch and the optional restrictions on video-sharing platforms like YouTube. Whenever possible, stick to YouTube Kids for young children, as the software will help to filter out unsuitable content. Remember that filters aren't always enough to block all inappropriate material – especially when child-friendly videos have been edited maliciously.

Manage the number of online platforms your child has access to, based on their age and maturity. Just because their friends use a certain game or app, it doesn't mean your child must have it too. Follow the age guidelines for games and apps, and check regularly that privacy settings are in place.

Encourage your child to stay in a communal family space when they're watching videos or playing online games on their devices – without headphones, if possible. This will make it far easier for you to keep one eye (and ear) on what they are seeing and hearing while they're online.

If your child watches cartoons and shows on YouTube, spend time with them making a playlist of videos that you're comfortable with them watching. Always source videos from official channels, as opposed to fan-made content: you can never be completely confident about material that another user has created or uploaded.

If you hear or see anything unsuitable on your child's device, calmly ask them to turn off the game or video in question. Explain that they haven't done anything wrong, but that you didn't like what you saw or heard and you would much rather they watched or played something else instead.

Remind your child regularly that anyone can post anything online – and that not everything online is real. If your child is sent something that scares or worries them, ask them to show you. Watch it alone (to avoid unnerving them further), then praise them for coming to you and talk about what upset them. Recommend a break from their device to do something which helps them feel calm and happy.

Based on the gospel for Sunday 29 May, Seventh Sunday of Easter: John 17:20-26

"May they all be one, just as, Father, you are in me and I am in you, so that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe it was you who sent me."

Before all ages and in the realms of light, God knew us and formed us in our mother's womb.

He knows our sleeping and our waking, our coming and our going. He never abandons us even if we wander far from him. Even in darkness and despair he is with us and nothing can separate us from his love.

He is in us and we are in him, through Jesus Christ our Lord who has revealed him to us. God can be found in the words and actions of others, especially those in need, and has come to us through the words of scripture.

By the power of the Holy Spirit acting through the sacraments of the church he binds humanity together in spirit and love.

As one body in Christ we are testimony and witnesses to God's love. May our witness open the doors to others who seek his face. Particularly those who are oppressed, marginalised and abandoned.

God of all,
guide us and lead us to be faithful witnesses to your love, so that the world will know peace.
Amen.

The Words of Pope Francis

Let us pray together for educational institutions, schools and universities in particular, that they might be transparent, active, welcoming, responsible communities, in a fruitful climate of cooperation, exchange and dialogue valuing each and every person.

Jesus raised his eyes to heaven and prayed, "Father, I am not praying only for these followers. I am also praying for everyone else who will have faith because of what my followers say about me. I want all of them to be one with each other, just as I am one with you and you are one with me. I also want them to be one with us. Then the people of this world will believe that you sent me. Father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, so that they may always see the glory you gave me, because you loved me before the foundation of the world. I have made your name known to them and will continue to make it known, so that the love with which you loved me may be in them and so that I may be in them."

Which words stood out for you in this Gospel, and why? What does the picture make you think about? Now enjoy exploring this Wednesday's word, which is HELPER.

"May we be united to one another, by the power of love which the Holy Spirit pours into our hearts." Pope Francis

Who was Jesus praying for? In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus is praying that the disciples will stay united. Soon Jesus will return to heaven and he will ask the Father to send the Holy Spirit to be their helper - to teach them and to be with them always. Ask your child who has helped them recently. What did that person do that was such a help to your child? You may want to share an experience of being helped by your children, other people, or directly by the Holy Spirit, and describe the difference that this help made to your life. Then each of you talk about an occasion when you went out of your way to help someone.

"What does love look like? It has the hands to help others." St Augustine

We are God's most loved creation and we can be certain God will always help us, and he wants us to help others too. As a family, discuss and choose special ways in which you can be helpful to each other in this coming week. Perhaps you can: make your bed and keep your room tidy; use kind words; set the table and clear the dishes. Is there anyone who may especially need your help at school or at work, or maybe even someone living in a far-off place? What could you do to help?

Dear Lord Jesus, thank you for your love and care. Please help us to see the needs of others, and give us a growing desire to help them. Amen

Enjoy reading this Sunday's Gospel

Jesus said to his disciples, "If you love me, you will keep my commandments. I shall ask the Father and he will send you the Holy Spirit, the Helper, to be with you forever. Those who love me will listen to my words and keep them, and my Father will love them, and we shall come to them and make our home with them. Those who do not love me do not keep my words. And my word is not my own; it is the word of the Father who sent me. I have said these things to you while still with you, but the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all the things I have said to you."

Taken from the Gospel of Sunday 5th June 2022. John 14:15-16.23-26 (Pentecost, Year C)

Which words stood out for you in this Gospel, and why? What does the picture make you think about? Now enjoy exploring this Wednesday's word, which is PENTECOST.

To colour the picture for this Sunday's Gospel, please see the back page.

"The extraordinary outpouring of Pentecost is an event that continues. The Holy Spirit transforms us and wants to transform the world." Pope Francis

Who did Jesus say the Father would send? This coming Sunday the Church celebrates Pentecost. This is the feast of the gift of the Holy Spirit to the Church – a gift which we now receive at Baptism, Confirmation and at Mass. Ask your child what they have learnt at school about Pentecost. It may help your child if you tell them something that you know about Pentecost. The word 'Pentecost' means 'fiftieth day'. On this day (fifty days after Easter) the apostles were filled with the Holy Spirit.

"The Holy Spirit helps us to view others with fresh eyes, seeing them as brothers and sisters in Jesus, to be respected and loved." Pope Francis Pentecost is not just a historical event. The Holy Spirit is alive and active today. Each of you choose one of the following qualities that you would like to ask the Holy Spirit for today: Courage, Joy, Peace, Patience, Gentleness, Kindness, Goodness, Faithfulness or Self-Control. Why did you choose that quality? In what ways could growing in that quality help you, or help other people at home, at school, or in the community? Come and learn more about the great celebration of Pentecost in Church this Sunday, and be open to receiving the many priceless gifts which the Holy Spirit brings. All are warmly invited.

Simply repeating the words 'Come, Holy Spirit' is a great prayer to say at Pentecost, and also each day throughout the year.

Encountering Christ
Prayerfully preparing for the Sunday Mass and praying in particular for our school families

Preparing for the Mass of Sunday 29th May 2022 - The Seventh Sunday of Easter

1 Relax & Remember

Set aside 10 -15 minutes and create a suitable environment by removing any distractions. Make sure that you are comfortable. Perhaps light a candle. Make the sign of the cross † and remain still for a minute of settling silence. Call to mind the love that God has for you. Remember that through this scripture our Lord is truly present. Then read the Gospel, preferably aloud and slowly, and pay attention to any words that stand out. If any do, meditate on them for a few minutes and be invited into a dialogue with God.

2 Read

Taken from the Gospel for Sunday 29th May 2022 (John 17:20-26): The Glory of Christ

Jesus raised his eyes to heaven and said: 'Holy Father, I pray not only for these, but for those also who through their words will believe in me. May they all be one. Father, may they be one in us as you are in me and I am in you, so that the world may believe it was you who sent me. I have given them the glory you gave to me, that they may be one as we are one. With me in them and you in me, may they be so completely one that the world will realise that it was you who sent me and that I have loved them as much as you love me. Father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, so that they may always see the glory you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world. Father, Righteous One, the world has not known you, but I have known you, and these have known that you have sent me. I have made your name known to them and will continue to make it known, so that the love with which you loved me may be in them, and so that I may be in them.'

3 Reflect

After spending a few minutes considering this Gospel, continue by reading Fr Henry Wansbrough's reflection.

The final chapter of Jesus's sayings at the Last supper is a prayer which both gives meaning to the sacrifice which Jesus is about to make and at the same time is a meditation on the Lord's Prayer. In today's portion Jesus speaks to his Father (also 'Our Father') with that perfect love which he will express most fully in his acceptance of torture and death on the cross. The story of the Crucifixion is not a story of rejection, but is the story of the most perfect union of Father and Son in love and willing obedience. It will make the Name, that is the love, of the Father fully known ('Hallowed be thy Name'). It will also grant Jesus that 'glory which he had before the foundation of the world' ('Thy Kingdom come'). But the kingdom is not complete without those who believe in Jesus and belong to him. The completion of the Kingdom is the work of the Spirit which is to come upon the Church at Pentecost. The story of its completion is, with all its twist and turns, its failures, its chastisements and its recoveries, the history of the Church.

Which petition of the Lord's Prayer is most important to you?

Dom Henry Wansbrough OSB

4 Respond & Request

Now slowly and prayerfully read the Gospel once again but this time in silence. Consider how this Gospel could apply to your life in general. Then thank God for any insight you may have received. Conclude by asking God to bless you with one of the following spiritual gifts to help you act on any resolution you have made: love, understanding, wisdom, faithfulness, peace, self control, patience, or joy. Please remember to pray for the Church and particularly our school families. Then conclude by requesting the prayers of Our Lady & St Joseph.

The Wednesday Word is under the patronage of St Joseph, Patron Saint of Families and Protector of the Church

WEDNESDAY WORD PLUS +

Fr Henry's reflections on the first and second readings of Sunday 29th May 2022

First Reading: The Martyrdom of Stephen

Acts 7.55-60

Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at God's right hand. 'I can see heaven thrown open' he said 'and the son of Man standing at the right hand of God'. At this all the members of the council shouted out and stopped their ears with their hands; then they all rushed at him, sent him out of the city and stoned him. The Witnesses put down their clothes at the feet of a young man called Saul. As they were stoning him, Stephen said in invocation, 'Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.' Then he knelt down and said aloud, 'Lord, do not hold this sin against them'; and with these words he fell asleep.

This reading fulfils a dual purpose. It reflects both on the position of Jesus after the resurrection, seated at the right hand of God, and on his first martyr, Stephen. These are the two inspirations of the life of the Church, here combined. The martyrdom of Stephen closely reflects the passion of Jesus: just as Jesus proclaims to the High Priest that he will see the Son of man seated at the right hand of the Father, so Stephen now sees Jesus standing at the right hand of God. This image to describe the glory of the Risen Christ is drawn from Psalm 110 (Greek 109). In other writings of the New Testament, e.g. the Book of Revelation, the exalted Christ shares the very throne of God: there is one throne and one godhead. It is fitting that on the Sunday before Pentecost these two inspirations of the life of the Church should be combined, for the Church relies upon this vision of the glory of Christ, and in that confidence bears witness to the truth of the Gospel even to the extent of martyrdom, a word which in itself means 'witness'.

How do I witness to Christ?

Second Reading: The Final Coming of Christ

Revelation 22.12-14, 16-17, 20

I, John, heard a voice speaking to me: 'Very soon now, I shall be with you again, bringing the reward to be given to every man according to what he deserves. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End. Happy are those who will have washed their robes clean, so that they will have the right to feed on the tree of life and can come through the gates into the city.' I, Jesus, have sent my angel to make these revelations to you for the sake of the churches. I am of David's line, the root of David and the bright star of the morning. The Spirit and the Bride say, 'Come.' Let everyone who listens answer, 'Come.' Then let all who are thirsty come; all who want it may have the water of life, and have it free. The one who guarantees these revelations repeats his promise: I shall indeed be with you soon. Amen; come, Lord Jesus.

The hope of a speedy second coming of Christ was especially vivid in the first generation of the Church. Paul envisaged (in 1 Thessalonians 5) that in his own lifetime Christ would appear 'on the clouds of heaven' in a triumphal procession, to be joined by those Christians who were still alive. The final words of today's reading may be translated either 'the Lord is coming' or 'Come, our Lord', depending on how the words of the Aramaic expression Maranatha are divided; in either case the expectation of Christ's return is vivid and pressing. In the later writings of the New Testament the accent has changed, so that 2 Peter 3.8 says that for the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and the stress is on the suddenness and unexpectedness of the final coming, 'like a thief in the night'. The coming of the Lord which, in today's reading, is to happen very soon is the coming of the Lord in the Spirit at Pentecost, for which we need to make ready and 'have our robes washed clean'.

If Christ knocked on my door today, would I be ready?

“We need to make ready and 'have our robes washed clean'.”
